

DIXMOOR, ILL. — Smoke and flames shoot from this vacant building, believed set by rioters Sunday, where more than 50 white persons were injured in their autos from bricks, stones and chunks of cement. More than 200 policemen from state, county and local levels were called to the scene. (UPI Telephoto)

50 Injured In Race Riot

200 Officers Bring Order In Illinois

DIXMOOR, ILL. (AP) — One thousand angry Negroes rioted for five hours Sunday night and early today before 200 shotgun-carrying police restored order to this predominantly Negro suburb south of Chicago.

More than 50 persons—most of them white—were injured when Negroes stoned their autos. Twenty-five Negroes were arrested after the first racial outbreak this summer in the Chicago area.

Two persons were shot. Police said one was a Negro hit in the arm by a civilian sniper and the other was a white man who accidentally wounded himself in the hand.

Hundreds of police cordoned off the area and used police dogs to hold off crowds of white men.

Then, led by Sheriff Richard Ogilvie of Cook County, 40 policemen walking with rifles and six squad cars of police restored order by moving into the heart of the riot area.

Before police moved in, Ogilvie instructed them: "If anyone shoots, we're shooting back."

Earlier, the crackle of small arms had been heard in the area. But the squad maneuvered across the riot scene without further shooting from either side.

"It was tense, real tense," said Lt. Mervin Horsmann of the sheriff's police.

Horsmann said Negroes in what he termed the middle class neighborhood lined the streets and jeered: "Gestapo. Gestapo." But no violence occurred.

The only looting was in a liquor store where the rioting was touched off. Rioters also set fire to an abandoned building.

Parachutist Dies When Chute Fails To Open At Higginsville

HIGGINSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Wallace Dale Whitzel, 26, of Kansas City, plunged to his death Sunday on his first parachute jump.

Don Cooper, president of a skydiving club, and pilot of the jump plane, said Whitzel leaped at 2,700 feet and opened his parachute. But the small pilot chute which pulls the big one out became entangled on Whitzel's arm, Cooper said, and he waited too long to open his reserve chute.

Whitzel crashed through a tree at the edge of the Higginsville airport, where the club practices jumping on weekends. Whitzel is survived by his mother, Mrs. Laura Whitzel of the home, and his grandmother, Mrs. Vaughn Graham, Sterling, Kan.

Jones Still Seeking State GOP Chair

ST. LOUIS (AP)—State Chairman Lem T. Jones Sr. of Kansas City said today he still is a candidate for re-election at the Sept. 8 meeting of the state GOP committee in Jefferson City.

Jones, 67, who was elected by a one-vote margin in June, 1963, termed erroneous a statement by Republican gubernatorial nominee Ethan Shepley that customarily the governor candidate has the dominant vote in the selection of the state chairman.

Shepley announced Friday he favors Ethan H. Campbell, a St. Joseph newspaper executive, to lead the party in Missouri.

"I'm still a candidate," Jones told the Associated Press here by telephone. "I pledged when elected last year I would serve through the Nov. 3 general election if it was the state committee's desire."

William O. Buffe of Kansas City, the Jackson County GOP chairman and a Jones supporter, said he has been probing party leaders "to see what their reaction has been to Lem's chairmanship."

"He (Jones) has been so wonderfully received that we're quite encouraged," Buffe said. "I wouldn't doubt it at all if our feeling would be contagious in other districts."

"Here is an ex-chairman of the board of a national company willing to devote seven days a week for the state committee without charging it a cent. I don't think you'll find too many of these people."

"And, I don't think the state committee will let Jones go for one who possibly could not work for the party all of the time and who would expect the committee to reimburse him," Buffe added.

Ex-Sedalia Girl, Age 8, Victim In Brutal KC Slaying

KANSAS CITY (AP) — An 8-year-old girl, beaten and raped, was found dead in a weed-patch Sunday by her father, Ernest President.

The father said Beverly Shevon disappeared from their home on the city's east side Saturday night while he and his wife were gone from the house between 9 and 11 p.m.

A coroner's report showed death occurred about 4 a.m. Sunday and was caused by shock, hemorrhage and exposure.

"If she had been found she probably would have survived," said Dr. Lon M. Tillman, deputy coroner.

The Presidents, who have six other children, moved to Kansas City from Sedalia five months ago. He is unemployed.

Beverly's sister, 7-year-old Ernestine, said a man entered the apartment and choked her and Beverly, then took Beverly with him.

State Roads Toll to Nine On Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents claimed nine lives on Missouri highways over the weekend.

Barbara Miller, 17, Jefferson City, was killed and five other persons were injured Sunday night in a head-on crash of two cars on a hill ten miles east of Jefferson City on U.S. 50.

William Bowman, 59, Tulsa, Okla., was killed in a head-on collision of a car and a semi-trailer truck on U.S. 166 about one mile west of Springfield, Mo., Sunday.

The Highway Patrol said the car driven by Bowman apparently crossed over into the east-bound lane of the four-lane highway and crashed into the truck.

Robert Walker, 18, Noel, Mo., was killed Sunday near Noel when his car ran off the road and struck a tree.

Juanita Powell, 30, of Advance, Mo., died in Cape Girardeau Saturday night of injuries suffered earlier in a one-car accident on Route 75, two miles west of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

She was a passenger in a car that went out of control rounding a curve and crashed into a ditch.

Mrs. Geneva Montgomery, 54, Harris, Mo., was killed in a two-car collision on Route EE, just east of Newton, Mo., Saturday night. The Highway Patrol said the accident occurred when the Montgomery car pulled into the path of an eastbound car.

In other accidents Saturday: Mrs. Sarah Baker, 23, Boonville, was killed in a head-on collision of two cars four miles (Please turn to page 2, col. 8)

Rusk Warns Democratic Plank Panel

Platform Writers Hear Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk warned today against "reckless words or deeds" while telling Democratic platform writers "we do approach our problems soberly and responsibly."

With this claim of balance in the pursuit of foreign affairs, Rusk launched the platform committee's formal work of writing a party declaration for the presidential campaign.

A roaring debate over foreign policy seems assured. The Republican platform charges the Johnson administration with "weakness before communism" while some Democratic spokesmen have said a Goldwater administration foreign policy would be dangerously impulsive.

Rusk never mentioned Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the Republican presidential nominee, in his prepared testimony.

"President Kennedy faced the missiles in Cuba and President Johnson the attacks on American naval vessels in the Gulf of Tonkin," Rusk said.

Dalton Considers Calling Special Legislative Meet

Sales Tax Law Defect Would Be Prime Business

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. John M. Dalton said today he is seriously considering calling a special session of the Missouri Legislature to correct a defect in the sales tax law.

He said he planned to confer with legislative leaders of both parties during the day to determine whether they would agree with his idea for a special session limited to six or seven days and to corrective legislation only.

So far, he told newsmen, the legislators he has talked with "by and large are for it."

If he decides to go ahead with the plan, Dalton said he thought the best time for the session would be around Sept. 1.

But he said if he thinks the session would turn into nothing but "a political sounding board" he will drop the idea.

Supreme and Circuit Court decisions have held that the sales tax does not apply on sales under 25 cents under the present bracket system of collecting the tax.

The governor said that would cost the state an estimated $7 million a year and he saw no reason the situation shouldn't be corrected at once.

If the state waits for the regular 1965 legislature to act, Dalton said the corrective law probably would not become effective until October, 1965, and the state by then would have lost a full year of revenue.

Besides, he said, people who are entitled to sales tax refunds should not have to wait that long to get them.

Actually, the governor said, the state is in good financial shape and will end the year with a healthy balance.

But judging from the budget requests being made by the colleges and the Mental Health Division "they're going to need all the money they can get" next year.

In addition, he said, the school people apparently want to change the foundation program formula of state aid for schools, which would cost additional millions.

If a special session is called, Dalton said he might also recommend a few other corrective things but did not specify them. He said he would not renew any of his recommendations which failed to get through the 1963 session because there would be no point in asking the same members to reconsider them.

He conceded there would be pressure to include other proposals but said he thought the session should not last more than a week. He estimated that could be done for $40,000 to $50,000.

Five days is the minimum (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 8)

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The launching of the Syncom 3 communications satellite has been delayed one day, until Wednesday morning, because of a faulty electrical connection in the booster rocket.

No Response to Offer

Cyprus Arms Deal Urged With Reds

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Buoyed by a pledge of Soviet support, Greek Cypriots are urging President Makarios to go to Moscow and negotiate an arms deal with the Russians.

Greek Cypriots of every political shade jubilantly greeted the Soviet Union's offer to help if Cyprus is invaded, and Soviet Premier Khrushchev's warning to Turkey that an attack on Cyprus might boomerang.

The right-wing weekly Ethniki hailed the weekend developments as "a great turning point" for the Greek Cypriot cause. It even suggested that Makarios, a Greek Orthodox archbishop, bring Communists into his cabinet to show his gratitude. Other editorials called upon Makarios to fly immediately to Moscow.

There has been no official response to the Soviets. One report said Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou would leave for Moscow Friday to begin talks on military aid.

The U.N. peace effort suffered an unexpected setback when Finnish mediator Sakari S. Tuomioja suffered a mild stroke in Geneva Sunday a few hours before his departure for another round of talks in Athens, Ankara and Nicosia.

UN Cyprus Mediator Undergoes Surgery

GENEVA (AP) — The condition of U.N. Cyprus mediator Sakari S. Tuomioja suddenly worsened and he underwent emergency surgery for a blood clot on the brain early today.

A United Nations communiqué on the 52-year-old Finnish diplomat said: "The condition of Mr. Tuomioja had deteriorated in the course of the night. A surgical operation has been performed this morning by Prof. Aloys Werner. The doctors are very reluctant to make a prognosis."

Ford Offers Pay Increase In New Pact

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. today offered its 165,000 production workers a broad new contract calling for overall average hourly wage increases of 19 cents over the next three years along with improvements in pension and health insurance plans.

In addition to the 19-cent increase, which would bring Ford's average hourly wage to $3.34 an hour, Ford also offered to transfer an additional 9 cents of its present cost-of-living allowance to basic wage scales.

The 23-page proposal was handed to the United Automobile Workers Union as the eighth week of bargaining began on a replacement for a contract which runs out Aug. 31.

There was no immediate comment from UAW leaders, pending a study of the Ford proposals.

Hoffa Gets Five Year Jail Term

Teamsters' Boss Sentenced; Draws $10,000 Fine

JAMES R. HOFFA

CHICAGO (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa was sentenced today to four concurrent terms of five years in prison for fraud in obtaining huge loans from his union's multimillion-dollar pension fund.

He also was fined $10,000. Before Judge Richard B. Austin sentenced Hoffa he asked: "Has the defendant anything to say?"

Hoffa, standing next to his attorney, Maurice Walsh, replied: "Not at all, your honor. The record speaks for itself."

Walsh then asked the judge to consider Hoffa's service to labor, to communities and the citizenry and that he was under sentence in Chattanooga in another case brought by the federal government. He asked that "if any sentence is meted out here" it be concurrent with the Chattanooga sentencing.

Austin replied: "This court feels that the sound of the clang of a jailhouse door has a salutary effect on defendants and other citizens."

Then he asked Hoffa whether he had anything to say.

Judge Austin denied all defense motions to set aside the jury conviction and for a new trial.

Hoffa, 51, was sentenced to eight years in a federal penitentiary earlier this year in Chattanooga for tampering with a jury in Nashville. That penalty is under appeal.

He and six codefendants were convicted of conspiracy and fraud by a U.S. District Court jury in Chicago July 26. The prosecution charged Hoffa and his associates employed misrepresentation in obtaining a total of $25 million in loans from the $280-million Teamsters pension fund and received in kickbacks a total of $1.7 million.

Indonesian Force Lands In Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—A small force of Indonesians has landed on the swampy west coast of Malaya, the Malaysian government announced today. It called the landings a small-scale invasion and said it would inform the U.N. Security Council.

Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak said a force of 30 to 40 Indonesians and a few Malaysians landed Sunday night in southern Johore State and that 13 were captured after a clash with police and troops. One Malaysian trooper was wounded.

Security measures were tightened in nearby Malacca and Negri Sembilan states. Razak said the Indonesian party came about 30 miles across Malacca Strait in outboard motor boats.

Calling the landing an act of aggression, Razak said that while the U.N. Security Council would be informed, the government did not plan to make any immediate request for U.N. action.

Indonesia has vowed to crush the British-backed Federation of Malaysia which was formed last September out of Malaya, Singapore and the former British Borneo territories of Sarawak and North Borneo, now called Sabah.

Nab Two Escapees In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Two youths who had escaped from the Nebraska reformatory were picked up in Kansas City Sunday after they ran a stop sign in a stolen car.

Police said they were Alan Dale Coleman, 18, Omaha, and Roland Duane Long, 19, Waco, Neb.

Two Young Women Die in Crash

BARRINGTON, ILL. — Auto in which two women were killed here Sunday is off the highway as first aid is given to victims of the second auto (in background). The dead were identified as Margaret Korn, 21, of Crete, Ill., and Blaine Curry, 23, of Byron, Minn. State police said the women were about to enter the east bound lane of the tollway when their car was struck by a westbound auto that had gone out of control and crossed the median strip. The five occupants of the westbound car were taken to the hospital in good condition. (UPI Telephoto)

New Garbage Ordinance To Council

A rewritten version of a proposed garbage collection fee ordinance is scheduled for unveiling tonight as City Council meets in regular session at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall.

Mayor L. L. Studer said today the ordinance is ready for a first reading, but no decision has been reached as to the monthly charge for collections. "That will have to be decided tonight," Studer said. The mayor added there is "some disagreement" among councilmen on the price figure.

The garbage fee ordinance will be discussed by the councilmen in private caucus preceding the council session and any major disagreement in the closed-door meeting could bring another delay in presentation of the measure.

Councilmen heard a collection fee ordinance read one time on July 20, but after studying that version the measure was ordered rewritten.

A community antenna television system (CATV) for Sedalia may come up for further discussion tonight, but councilmen are reported hesitant to launch into this issue at present.

"Some of the councilmen don't want to get into this cable antenna system until this garbage thing is settled," Mayor Studer said.

This one-hot - issue-at-a-time sentiment was summed up by Second Ward Councilman Walter Jessee commenting at the council's last session after Mayor Studer had suggested the city fathers should make a decision on CATV soon.

"It seems we get out of one thing and into another," said Jessee. "It's pretty hot weather to keep the water down here boiling all the time."

Police Holding Man In Death of Woman

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An autopsy Sunday disclosed that a woman found dead Saturday in a St. Louis apartment died from a broken neck.

The nude body of Mrs. Lucille Horton, 43, of suburban Goodfellow Terrace, was found in a bed. Police arrested James Houston, 50, of St. Louis Sunday and booked him suspected of murder. Houston told police he knew Mrs. Horton but denied killing her. A coroner's inquest will be held Tuesday.

Maclay, and a sister, Miss Laura Maclay.

She was a member of the Presbyterian Church in Tipton, Broadway Presbyterian Church, Sedalia, and First Presbyterian Church, Berkeley, Calif.

Mrs. Guy V. Head will have charge of the music.

Science Shrinks Piles

New Way Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®.

Ernest W. Kowalski, 1704 East 16th, charged with making a loud and unnecessary noise with a motor vehicle, pleaded innocent and after a hearing the case was dismissed.

Carl W. Bell, Route 5, charged with failure to pay five over-time parking summonses, forfeited a $10 bond.

Oliver Cox, 1510 South Osage, charged with disturbing the peace and assault on complaint of Irene Cox, pleaded innocent, but after a hearing was found guilty and given a suspended 10-day jail sentence.

Ralph E. Harrington, Smithton, charged with disturbing the peace, forfeited a $25 bond.

Eugene Kobisky, Knob Noster, charged with parking on private property, forfeited a $2 bond.

Motoring Hint

Motoring experts suggest that drivers allow more time for passing in high altitudes of mountain driving because of a slowdown in motor reactions.

French Bus Crash Toll Climbs to 17

BOURG ST. MAURICE, France (AP)—The death count rose to 17 today in an Alpine bus accident which turned a children's vacation outing into tragedy.

Doctors in the hospital of Bourg St. Maurice worked to save the lives of 16 others seriously injured when the bus went off the road Sunday and plunged 230 feet into a ravine.

The bus was carrying vacationing French youngsters from a shepherd's festival back to their camp at the summer resort at Seez near the Swiss frontier.

The driver, Armand Lotherier, 51, who suffered severe injuries, told police he was forced off the road by an approaching car.

The bus crashed through a guard rail and landed upside down at the bottom of the ravine.

Ann Landers
Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Will you please print this letter to help out all kids whose fathers work in banks?

I am 14 years old and my father is the vice-president of a bank. I'd like to make it plain that my dad doesn't own the bank—he only works there.

The kids at school have the idea that just because my dad works in a bank I am a rich kid. The way they talk you'd think my dad can go into the bank and help himself to money any time he feels like it.

Last week a bunch of us were planning a picnic to pay back the girls who took us to a theater party in May.

We were short of money and one of the kids said, "Carlton can get it from his old man's bank."

Please, Ann Landers, tell people that bank officers are on a salary just like truck drivers, and sometimes the salary isn't as big as they think. — NOT RICH.

Dear Not Rich: For all you kids who think people who work in banks can take home samples I'd like to tell you this: If they ever tried it they'd have to answer to the bank examiners who check periodically to make sure bank employees don't get to thinking like the kids at school.

Dear Ann Landers: Arnie and I were married four months ago and we moved to this big city. The thought of a big city frightened me but it was a promotion for Arnie and I knew I had to do my best to help him.

I am terrified when we meet new people. Arnie keeps telling me to relax, but I can't. I'm so afraid of saying the wrong thing and hurting Arnie's chances that I sit like a dunce and don't talk at all.

Whenever we are in a group my heart pounds and I get indigestion. Sometimes I have to go to the ladies room and loosen my clothing. Tell me please how to get confidence in myself. I'm losing weight and not feeling well.—INADEQUATE WIFE

Dear Wife: See a doctor and get a complete physical check-up. If there is nothing organically wrong with you, you must then accept the fact that you have an emotional problem. The discomfort you describe may well be symptoms of anxiety.

A professional can help you learn what you are afraid of and how to deal with your fear.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl, 18, and I hope you will not think I am bragging when I tell you I am beautiful. If God had given me a little less beauty and a few more brains I would be a lot better off.

Since I was 15 I have been out-talked and out-maneuvered by at least a half dozen smoothies. I am truly ashamed of myself.

My first serious boy friend was a captain of the debating team and I didn't stand a chance. He was so persuasive,

I couldn't think of a single argument for my side.

The second fellow was a science major who kept arguing that in this age of nuclear fission I might be blown to bits before I had a chance to live. You can see, Ann, how this sort of talk could make a girl figure, oh well.

Please give me some good arguments. I am tired of being the loser. — NO MATCH FOR THEM.

Dear No Match: Where did you get the idea that you must win a debate in order to hang

No, No, Uncle Sam - Not That

A mail carrier in New York State got so fed up with so many people writing so often and so much to so many other people that he figured nuts to lugging all that stuff around and decided to store a good part of it in his own home.

It took him only a few years to accumulate two tons of deathless prose.

When postal authorities finally caught up with him they wondered why not a single inquiry or complaint had been received from the 450 people who had been deprived of all this mail.

This mystery was solved when a check of the undelivered stuff revealed that 90 per cent of it was "junk" mail — advertising circulars, sensational offers, ground-floor opportunities, and unsolicited samples and "gifts" addressed with delightful intimacy to "occupant" or "householder."

The intended recipients hadn't missed these goodies for the simple reason they hadn't expected them.

It seems that nothing much can be done to the mail carrier. He retired eight years ago and the statute of limitations has run out.

Still, he did tamper with the United States mail. And after all, the mail must go.

Hey — how about making him read all that junk mail and use up all those samples?

Or is that too cruel and inhuman to even contemplate?

The Longest Comedy

The longest running show in the world is not a Broadway musical but, of all things, the armistice talks at Panmunjom, Korea. The word "show" is used advisedly because these negotiations — the longest in history, now going into their 12th year—have become real tourist attractions.

THE OREGONIAN: 'Dinghy for the Car.

— Observers of the motor age sometimes wonder out loud, and not entirely in jest, what will happen when the number of automobiles reaches the point where all freeways, streets, county roads and parking lots will be chockablock, when every available bit of land has been paved and there is room only to park the cars but not to move them.

British Minister of Transport Ernest Marples has appointed a study group with something like this in mind.

"Ideas that must be looked at include collapsible cars," said the minister of transport. "Perhaps people in the future will have two cars and keep one in the boot (trunk) of the other for city use. It would not be of steel and would be able to collapse into a smaller size. We shall also see if cars can be designed which can move into parking spaces sideways and we shall try to reduce noise and fumes."

It is an intriguing idea to have a dinghy for the family jalopy that can be folded up like a patio chair, carried into the office and stashed away behind the coat rack. But maybe magnetic air cars such as Dick Tracy found on the moon would be better.

Actually, Panmunjom is only one scene in the longest running show of all — the one called the Human Comedy.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Dirksen Flips on Supreme Court

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Shortly after Everett McKinley Dirksen arrived in Washington as a young, curly-headed isolationist congressman from Illinois, he witnessed one of the major legislative battles of this century when President Franklin Roosevelt introduced his so-called "Supreme Court Packing" bill.

FDR was irate over the manner in which the "nine old men" had slapped down his NRA, his Agricultural Adjustment program, and his child labor laws. And, having been re-elected in 1936 by an overwhelming margin, he proposed enlarging the Supreme Court in order to override its traditional power of overriding his legislation.

He failed. The reason he failed was Republican and Southern Democratic opposition, plus the basic belief of most Americans that the traditional powers of the court should not be tampered with.

Young Ev Dirksen, fresh from the cornfields and the distilling centers of Illinois, was among those who castigated the Democratic attempt to override the court.

That was a quarter of a century ago. Today, the pendulum has swung in the other direction and the same Ev Dirksen, now gaunt, gray, and gnarled, is the man who wants to override the same Supreme Court which he once defended.

His tactics are quite different from those of FDR. Roosevelt introduced his bill on Feb. 5, 1937, just after Congress opened and when there was time for a full and fair debate.

Dirksen in Reverse

Dirksen, in contrast, has introduced a sneak amendment to the foreign aid bill, a measure which he knows Johnson cannot veto, and he deliberately waited to do this until the closing days of Congress when every member is rushing to adjourn.

His amendment not only would gut the power of the Supreme Court regarding its decree straightening out the lopsided voting strength of state legislatures, but would continue the lopsided state government for years to come. Yet he asks congressional action, not after full debate, but after a few rushed and hectic hours of consideration.

The Roosevelt court debate, which lasted all winter, ended not only in victory for the court, but in the eventual conclusion by FDR himself that he was wrong. Time, which is a rectifier of many things, changed the complexion of the court, and some of the New Deal laws, especially NRA, were proved to be much better off the statute books.

Probably time would have the same effect today — if there were time. But Dirksen is rushing against time because the federal courts in Illinois ruled, on June 22, that the Illinois State Senate must reapportion this year. Some of Ev's cronies in the State Senate are about to lose their jobs and are pressuring him for quick action.

However, a careful analysis of the Illinois vote spectrum shows that, under reapportionment, Republicans would lose no seats. They would gain three seats in the suburbs of Cook County plus three seats in the suburban counties just outside Cook County. This would be offset by the loss of six Republican seats in sparsely populated downstate Illinois.

At present, the Illinois Senate is so lopsided that 29 per cent of the voters elect a majority of the senators and 71 per cent of the voters elect the minority.

The chief gainers through reapportionment would be the burgeoning suburbs, which are predominantly Republican. And this would be true regarding reapportionment in most states.

Despite this, Ev Dirksen with his Dixiecrat allies used blackmail legislative tactics during the closing days of Congress to override the Supreme Court which they once defended. And administration leaders meekly bowed to their crude tactics.

Ev's Charmed Life

Where LBJ is concerned, Ev Dirksen leads a charmed life.

At exactly the same time that the Senate minority leader from Illinois was undercutting both the Supreme Court and Johnson's foreign aid bill, the President was handing Ev the right to nominate two new appointees to the Federal Power Commission, the agency which molds the prices which millions of housewives and thousands of factories pay for oil, gas, and electricity.

There are two Republican vacancies on the power commission, one that of the late Harold Woodward of Chicago; the other that of Charles Ross of Vermont, whose term has expired but who has not been reappointed.

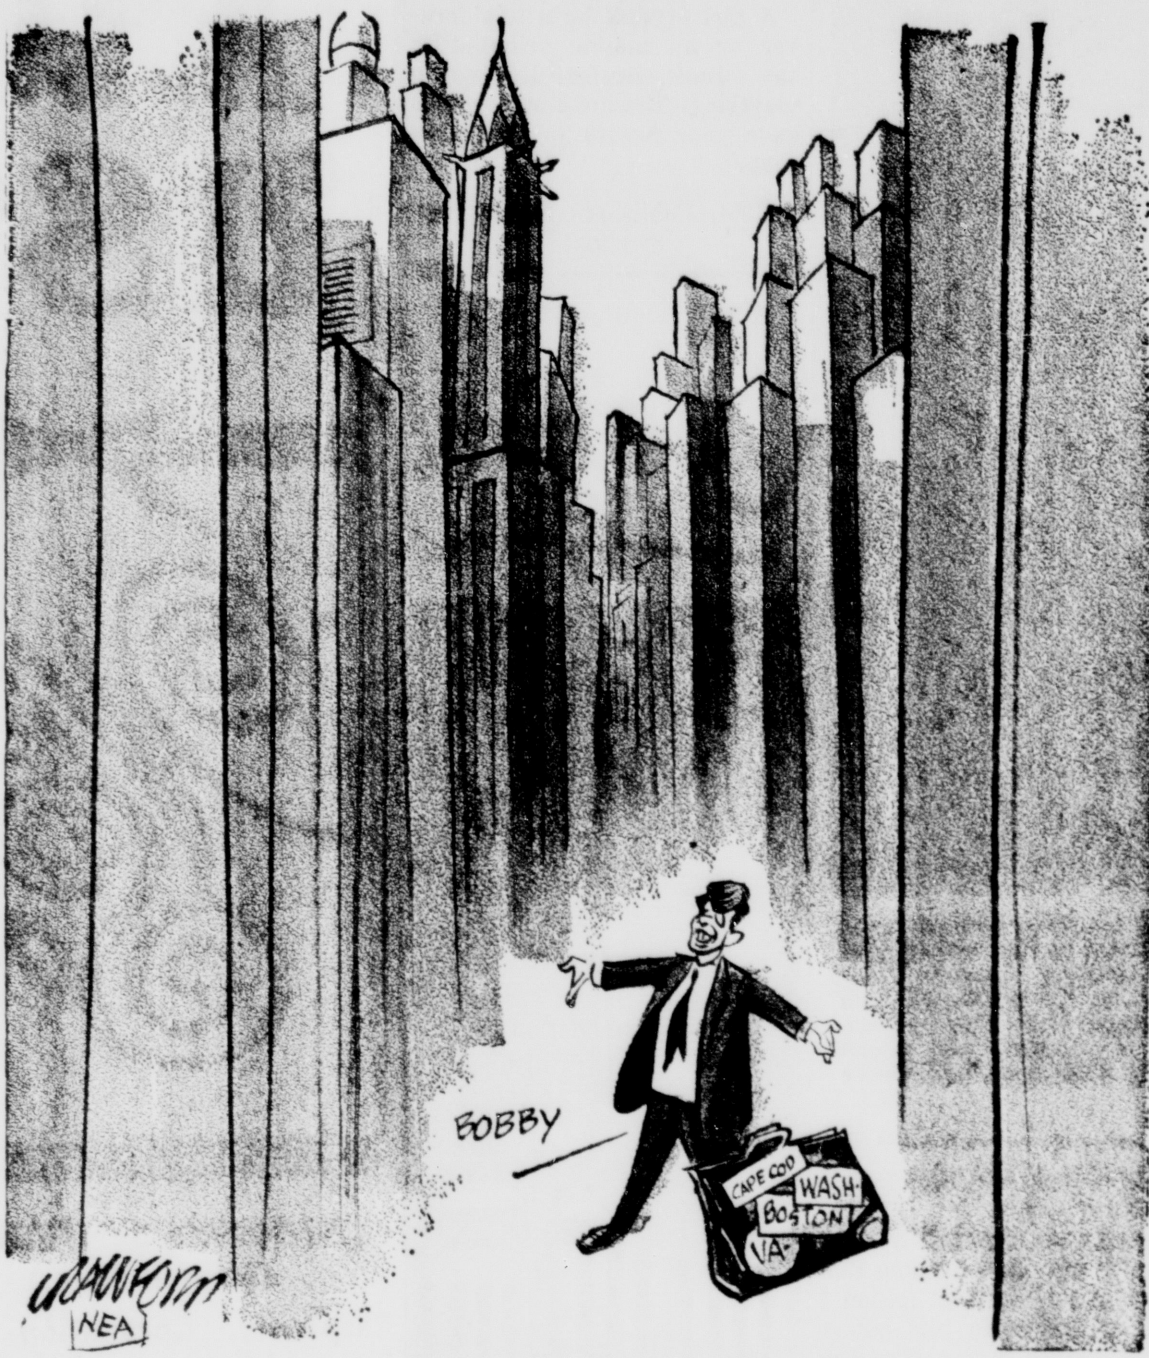

Ross is a consumers representative and on the whole has not been afraid to stand up against the oil, gas, and utility companies.

However, LBJ has given Dirksen, as Senate GOP leader, the right to pick a replacement even though another Republican senator, George Aiken of Vermont, has urged that Ross be appointed.

Meanwhile, Dirksen has picked Robert E. Dolph, of the Illinois Commerce Commission, for the other FPC vacancy. Dolph is a protégé of George Perrine, former chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission, now with the Midwest Gas Transmission, which is the wholly-owned subsidiary of Tennessee Gas Transmission.

Dolph is considered a friend of the big power and gas companies, not of the consumer, but with Dirksen behind him he will get the job just the same.

Barry Not Interested In Guards

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's no secret at the White House that President Johnson dislikes having the Secret Service shepherd him around.

And it's no secret that the Secret Service agents get very unhappy about Johnson's habit of mixing with crowds.

Now it appears that Sen. Barry Goldwater shares Johnson's attitude. At least, as the Republican presidential nominee, he's not asking for a guard.

"I never feel in any danger," Goldwater said last week. "I feel that when the Lord wants you, He's going to take you."

Goldwater was replying to questions about a proposal by his vice presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller, that Goldwater be given Secret Service protection during the campaign.

Miller made his proposal when asked whether he saw a possibility of racial violence at campaign appearances by Goldwater. Miller said the possibility called for serious consideration.

The question of protection for presidential nominees had come up earlier, a few days after Goldwater's nomination.

He said then: "If a fellow wants to assassinate somebody, he can do it. I get one or two threats a week. I think they're mostly crackpots."

The Secret Service now begins protection of the president-elect just as soon as it becomes apparent who he's going to be. Agents wait in the wings of both candidates' headquarters on election night.

A bill that would authorize the Secret Service to protect major party nominees for both president and vice president was introduced in the House last week by a Republican congressman, Rep. Charles E. Goodell of New York.

The protection would extend from the moment of nomination until the election, with additional protection for the defeated presidential candidate for "a reasonable time" if he requested it.

Only in 1962, did Congress require Secret Service protection for the vice president — and this was over the objection of the vice president at the time — Lyndon B. Johnson. Prior to 1962, vice presidents could request protection.

In 1963, Johnson was represented as wanting Congress to repeal the vice presidential protection. "I have that from his own lips," Rep. J. Vaughn Gary, D-Va., said.

When President John F. Kennedy was killed by rifle shots last November as he rode through Dallas in a motorcade, Johnson was with him — and a Secret Service agent threw himself on top of Johnson to shield him.

Still, Johnson is restive about always being under guard.

If Allen Dulles has his way, presidents will be more tightly guarded than ever. Dulles' views are given weight because he is a former head of the Central Intelligence Agency and is a member of the Warren Commission investigating the Kennedy assassination.

The commission report is expected about mid-September. When Johnson and Goldwater read it, they may be swayed by the expected recommendations for presidential submission to better protection.

"If the people want this," Dulles predicted, "the President is going to do it."

Learns Hard Way On Wounded Bear

WARROAD, Minn. (AP) — Andy Streiff tells how to kill a bear: "Shoot him three times after he is dead. Then wait five minutes before you go up to him."

Streiff is recovering today from a recent encounter with a 250-pound bear. At 216 pounds, Streiff wasn't too badly out-matched except for the teeth and claws.

He came across the bear while on his truck route, picking up farmers' milk. He shot the animal and it went down and appeared lifeless.

The County Fair — A Modern Enigma

A modern enigma is the survival of the county fair. Beginning with the Daviess County Livestock Show in Galatin on Aug. 1 and winding up with the East Perry Community Fair in Alterburg on Sept. 26, hardly a day will pass when Missourians aren't attending a local fair or breed show somewhere in the state.

Of the many thousands who will attend, only a small minority will be farmers. Yet, agriculture will be the dominant theme of each of the 75 fairs scheduled during this two-month period.

During this period, too, is the Missouri State Fair in Sedalia which annually attracts a quarter million persons, but the paradox here is not so pronounced. The scope and variety of attractions at the Missouri State Fair clearly offer something for everyone. Modern innovations are added each year to appeal to urban as well as rural interests.

The local fair, however, is old fashioned in many respects, and it perseveres as an institution because people want it to.

Don Thomason, Missouri Commissioner of Agriculture, suggests that sentiment has a lot to do with it.

Few Missourians, Thomason says, have forgotten the farm. Most native Missourians particularly are not far removed from the state's rich agrarian heritage. The average Missourian is not more than a generation or two away from the fields.

It is not rare to find a sophisticated, urban business executive who remembers milking cows, baling hay or navigating a combine over a rippling sea of golden wheat. Many a scrapbook in a downtown apartment or suburban home boasts blue ribbons achieved with a successful 4-H project.

Although this executive now feels far more comfortable in a business suit than bib overalls, he nevertheless enjoys the nostalgia offered by the county fair. He often attempts to pass it along to his children vicariously, elating them through the livestock barns to expose them firsthand to the sights and sounds and smells which are not available in picture books.

There is nothing activist about this attitude. The typical urbanite realizes agriculture, too, has changed; that the science of modern farming is serious business, and that the romance is mostly imagined. But it is still fun to reminisce.

On the other hand, there is a very practical reason why the county fair survives. Farm income in Missouri is about $1.3 billion annually and the county fair offers the kind of competition which cannot be provided elsewhere, and which is a necessary stimulus in agricultural economics.

The emphasis in agriculture is on quality. The county fair helps the farmer in his quest for quality production.

Recognizing this, and appreciative of the benefits shared by all Missourians, the legislature plays an important role in perpetuating the county fair tradition. A special appropriation is made to afford financial assistance to local fairs.

Under the aid-to-fairs program, the state pays up to half the cash premiums awarded to successful exhibitors. This program is administered by the Missouri Department of Agriculture's Livestock Division.

Personnel of this division also assist local fair officials with arrangements such as securing qualified judges and helping to solve the many problems encountered.

But, according to Thomason, the principal reason why the county fair survives is found in the dedication of local officials who refuse to let it pass from the scene of modern Missourians.

Communities would do well, he says, to support their local fairs with attendance and participation to insure for future generations the many benefits of the county fair.

The Mature Parent

About Dawdling Habits

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My boy, 6, has caught the dawdling habit from his older sister who always has to delay doing things. I have had to take a toy boat away from him because he locks himself into the bathroom with it, fills the tub with water and plays with it instead of taking his before-supper shower. He keeps me waiting in the car because he has to do something at the very last minute.

Answer: Isn't your real concern your fear that you have contributed to this dawdling resistance in your children? I wish you could admit it because it might reduce the tension under which you are living and make possible a more relaxed treatment, not just of the children but of yourself.

Almost always the parents of dawdling children are victims of an exhausting, subsurface but driving conviction that everybody but themselves is unreliable. As children they were entitled to this conviction because their parents were unreliable people — promise-breakers, parents who did a lot of ordering around like "Get me my glasses . . . see what your brother is doing . . . find me my pocket-book."

Constantly delegated to caretaker responsibilities, they not unnaturally came to the conclusion that nobody could be expected to do any caretaking but themselves. This is, I expect, the conclusion that operates in you and expresses itself in the caretaker's supervising "hurry up" attitude to which your two youngsters have responded by dawdling.

Your son is not your unreliable parent. In fact, he is much more reliable and competent than you credit him with being.

He resists using water merely to wash himself with because he is familiar with this use of water. By delaying his shower to sail his boat in the tub, he is discovering another function of water — its buoyancy. I can quite understand that the time he spends exploring this discovery inconveniences you but it cannot be called a "waste" of time.

Do you want him to attend to the washing function of water? Then attend to his enterprising interest in its buoyancy function. Stop forcing him to fight for this interest — or you may turn him into a lazy, incompetent child. If you are willing to learn how water holds up boats, he will be willing to remember how it can also clean dirty little boys.

Mark Twain Area Renamed for Cannon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 5,395-acre Annada division of the Mark Twain National Wildlife Refuge in Missouri has been renamed in honor of the late Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo.

The Interior Department announced Thursday the division will now be known as the Clarence Cannon National Wildlife Refuge.

The new designation was approved by the Migratory Bird Conservation Commission on the recommendation of Rep. Frank M. Karsten, D-Mo.

"Congressman Cannon had a long and sincere interest in the preservation of the wildlife resources of this country and an immediate interest in the selection and acquisition of the Mark Twain Refuge's Annada division," Karsten said. Cannon died May 12.

FARMING---

Across Pettis County

By LARRY HALE

Director, MU Extension Center

Dates Ahead

Thursday, Aug. 20—The 4-H exhibits eligible for the State Fair are to be taken to the fair grounds to be entered.

Monday, Aug. 24—Farm Family Day at the State Fair. The Karl Darby family was selected to represent Pettis County at this event.

Recreation as a Business

You know there has been considerable interest in the last few years in recreation. Particularly in some areas where they see it as a means to improve the local economic conditions.

More and more Missourians are entering the recreation business. Still more people are asking if it pays off.

University of Missouri Agricultural Economist Ronald Bird says it does pay off. Many people adopting this recreational enterprise in Missouri have received net incomes from $4,000 to $20,000 dollars a year.

These successful recreational operations had certain characteristics which helped make them successful:

Operators had specialized training in the undertaking before they assumed full responsibility for it.

Facilities were located either near a large city or in an area where a large number of recreational facilities had been built.

The initial operations were of sufficient size to require the operators' full time effort during the tourist season.

The operations had gone through a development stage of three to five years while the operators built up a volume of business.

Finally, operators spent a sizable sum for advertising each year.

In other words if you have the time, finances, size of business, right location and have trained yourself, a recreational business for you could pay.

Time for Pasture Renovation

The time for renovating pastures is near.

Pasture renovation should be completed around the middle of September, perhaps earlier.

Testing Station

Accepting Entries
The Missouri Cattle Testing Station is now accepting entries for this fall. Calves born in February, March or April are eligible for the fall and winter tests.

From among calves tested, those which meet requirements will be eligible for the Tested Bull Sale tentatively scheduled for November, 1965.

Steers are also eligible for tests. After completion of the testing period, they will be slaughtered for carcass evaluation.

Applications for testing should be sent to: Keith Leavitt, Station Supervisor, 125 Mumford Hall, University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo. Applications must be accompanied by a $25 entry fee.

Rules and regulations are available for Leavitt from the County University Centers.

Grasshoppers

The continued hot, dry weather has resulted in increased damage to pastures, hay crops, and, at least, marginal rows of corn and soybeans. In some areas, the hoppers are largely in the adult stage while in others they are predominantly still nymphs. With this wide variance in hopper development, it is suggested that the adult control dosages be used from now on. For control of hoppers in row crops, use either 1½ ounces dieldrin, 4 ounces aldrin, 2 pounds toxaphene, or 1½ pounds Sevin per acre. Make applications in early morning or late afternoon when temperatures are below 90 to 95 degrees. Do not use the chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides on crops to be fed to dairy animals. For control in pastures use either 2 pounds toxaphene (beef cattle pastures only) or 20 ounces malathion or 1 pound Sevin per acre. For control in hay crops, use either 20 ounces malathion or 1 pound Sevin per acre.

Stored Grain Insects

Have you checked all grains stored this summer for signs of insect infestations? This should be done at least at monthly intervals from now until cold weather sets in. Stored grain insects reproduce rapidly during the periods of higher temperatures and humidity of late summer and early fall.

If insects are present, fumigate with any of the commonly available grain fumigants. All should give good results when applied correctly and used in accordance with label instructions. Use the maximum amounts suggested on the label of the container when wooden bins are involved. If Indian meal moth is one of the insect problems, try to get a fumigant containing at least 1 to 2 per cent chloropicrin, or spray the surface of the grain and exposed wall surfaces with 1 pint 57 per cent premium grade malathion in 2 gallons of water per 1,000 square feet of grain and wall surface area.

Nitrate in Corn Silage

Because of our dry weather, you would be in a better position if you would test your silage for nitrates before you put it in the silo.

We have been testing some green chop corn and corn that will soon be put in the silo. We have found small amounts of nitrates but each field of corn will be different.

We would recommend that before you green chop and feed green corn to your cattle that you should have it tested for nitrates.

If you want your corn tested for nitrates, take 4 or 5 stalks of corn from various places over the field and bring them to the University Extension Center. We have a nitrate detection test that can help you in this situation.

Seeding Small Grains

It may seem a bit early to be thinking about the fall seeding of small grain crops, but the preparations that you make ahead of time can have a lot to do with how successful your wheat, barley, or rye crop may be.

One of the things that can make for several extra bushels per acre is to plow early on those fields that can be plowed ahead of time. This will help give a build-up of available plant food in the soil. It will also permit you to have a settled seedbed that will make for quicker and better germination, more vigorous early growth, and less danger of winterkill.

Plan now as to what varieties you want to grow. Varieties currently being recommended by the Field Crops Department include Monon, Knox, Knox 62, Vermillion and Redcoat as soft wheat varieties, and Pawnee, Ponca, Triumph, Kaw and Ottawa as hard wheats. Then after you have decided on your variety, line up your seed supply. If you won't be buying seed that has already been tested, get a germination test right away on the seed you plant. Seed that looks good doesn't always sprout, and you can't afford to gamble your crop on its appearance.

You may need to make plans to treat your seed too. Winter barley seed should probably always be treated. And wheat needs to be treated if there was any evidence of scab in the field where seed was produced. Finally, if the fields where any of the small grains are to be seeded have a history of seedling disease troubles, it will be wise to treat the seed.

You need to plan ahead, too, regarding the fertilizer you will be using. If you don't have a fairly recent soil test on the field that can be used to make fertilizer recommendations, this will involve taking soil samples and getting your soil tested before lining up your fertilizer needs.

So it is not early at all to be making plans for your fall planting of small grains, when you consider the advantages of early plowing, your need to decide on a variety and obtain your seed, get germination tests and soil tests, and line up seed treatment and your fertilizer needs.

Optimistic Farm Outlook

The agricultural outlook for the next five years appears "brighter" thinks Fred V. Heinkel, president of the Missouri Farmers Association.

He told the farm group's annual convention that while exports are "an unknown" that indications are they will be up—particularly for beef, poultry and dry milk. Heinkel an appointee by President Johnson on the Public Advisory Committee on Trade Negotiations, suggested that there could be "fantastic increases in exports of these items."

He said that corn prices should continue "at least at present levels" and that there

E. B. WINNER

Ex-County Agent Takes London Job

E. B. Winner, former Pettis County agent and member of the University of Missouri faculty, left Washington, D. C., this week for a new position in London. Since leaving Columbia in 1959, Winner has been director of information for the United States Department of Agriculture's Federal Extension Service.

Winner will manage the U.S. DA's Trade Center operations in the United Kingdom. In this position, he will promote United States' agricultural commodities in the United Kingdom. He and Mrs. Winner will live in London.

During the five years that Winner has been in Washington, he has been on a number of short-time foreign assignments. Last year he helped organize and manage the European-American Symposium on Liberal Trade held in Amsterdam.

In 1962 he handled the information and public relations responsibilities for the United States Food Exhibition in Brussels. And, Winner was a member of a six-man communications team that visited Russia in 1960.

Winner was on the University faculty from 1936 to 1959. He started with the Extension Division as assistant county agent in Cass County, moved to the same position in Pettis County, served as county extension director in Holt County, joined the Extension Division's state staff as poultry specialist, and later became agricultural editor for the Extension Division and College of Agriculture.

are some indications for going higher. "These factors are increased feeding and rising exports," he added.

Cotton faces a better future than is currently indicated, Heinkel said, adding that, "a new program is bound to come that will help cotton in its battle against synthetics. This should make cotton competitive here and abroad and slow down or stop the inroads by synthetics."

Soybeans were described as the crop with the "rosiest outlook." Heinkel predicted production will probably hit a billion bushels by 1970 and this would take another 5 or 6 million acres—probably out of grain crops. He said soybean prices should hold good and that grain prices would benefit from the switch of acres to beans.

"Beef cattle, despite present prices to the contrary, have for the future a brighter outlook than do other meat commodities," the MFA leader argued. He listed a shift by consumers to beef from other commodities, the increase in population and increasing exports for his optimism.

"Exports of farm products is the life blood of our farm economy. Without these, we would be sunk," Heinkel told the delegates and guests at the meeting in the Stephens College Assembly Hall. It is estimated that 75 million U. S. Acres were required to produce the various quantities of agricultural commodities exported in fiscal year 1963-64. This is equivalent to 1 out of every 4 harvested acres in the U. S.

In 1963-64 exports furnished an outlet for three-fourths of the wheat production; two thirds of the rice and non-fat dry milk; over two fifths of the tallow and soybeans; about a third of the cotton and dried whole milk; a fourth of the lard and tobacco; and one-fifth of the cottonseed, grain sorghums and barley.

Exports of animals and animal products in 1963-64 were around $783 million, up 29 per cent from the year before. Farmers are sometimes critical of meat imports.

Our economy is geared to world leadership and "this is based primarily on our abundance of food," Heinkel continued. "This food abundance is our greatest insurance against war."

He said that he expected Congress, in the not very distant future, to set aside a Strategic Food Reserve. "Such a reserve would not be a threat to our markets, and could be touched only in cases of disaster such as the Alaskan earthquake, a widespread drought, or in case of war," Heinkel continued.

"Recent action by the Congress and the President in establishing a National Food Marketing Commission to study the practices, margins and policies of food processors, wholesalers and retailers may well be construed as evidence that the Government intends to break up any price conspiracies against farmers that may exist," Heinkel said.

"This could go a long way in making it possible for farmers to attain their proper position in the marketing and pricing of their products," he declared.

Heinkel said that farmers are generating more power for good through their cooperatives than is being developed in any way outside the government itself.

"This will continue. Farmers like cooperatives because they do things, get results, bring home the 'bacon'," he argued.

Recently 26 dairy cooperatives in the midwest and southwest allied themselves into one cooperative association in order to more effectively deal with difficulties and problems which cannot be solved by individual farmers or an individual cooperative. Such alliances are being encouraged by USDA officials in Washington.

Farmers will be encouraged to support cooperatives, Heinkel thinks, and they will become the "biggest single influence in farm affairs."

"Gradually but surely cooperatives will take over many of the price functions now performed by government," Heinkel predicted.

The MFA this year is observing its Golden Anniversary. Heinkel listed the following accomplishments that had improved rural living in Missouri during the past 50 years:

1. Missouri and its people have been lifted out of the mud with a great system of state highways and by thousands of miles of King roads and other county roads.

2. This made possible the transportation of farm boys and girls to school.

3. REA brought electricity and the blessings that come with it to the farm families of Missouri.

Heinkel pointed out that the MFA had played a major part in all these accomplishments. "At the same time these things were taking place, MFA was building a great system of farmer's marketing and purchasing associations."

He said that MFA has wielded valuable influence on quality margins and prices. In addition, has made more than $105 million in savings since 1940 of which over $70 million has been paid out to MFA members in cash patronage refunds," Heinkel concluded.

Yankees Take Baltimore 3-1

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mel Stottlemyre made his second vital start Sunday for the New York Yankees during Flag Fortnight, and came off with his second victory.

This time the 22-year-old right-hander whipped the league-leading Baltimore Orioles 3-1. That moved the Yankees to within 2½ games of the Orioles, and started Manager Yogi Berra talking pennant.

A misjudged outfield fly helped the Yankees to their first two runs in the game, and a double case of the outfield staggers figured in the 2-1 victory. The Chicago White Sox scored over the Red Sox at Boston.

The Chicago victory moved the second place White Sox to within two games of the top.

The Yankees move on to Chicago now for four games that will wind up the two-week span during which they will have played the Orioles and White Sox 15 straight games.

In other American League games, Harmon Killebrew hit his 42nd homer as the Minnesota Twins trounced the Cleveland Indians 13-2, the Detroit Tigers walloped Kansas City 11-5 and Washington defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-1.

Stottlemyre was called up from Richmond in the International League only last Tuesday in a mid-summer move to bolster the suddenly shaky Yankee pitching.

The next day he trimmed the White Sox 7-3, in a complete game. Sunday he went 8 2-3 innings — Al Downing came in and got the last out — in the decision over the Orioles.

If things keep on like that, Mel will have a starting job in the World Series in October.

It was 1-0 going into the seventh, when Oriole starter Milt Pappas had to retire when his right arm stiffened up. Steve Barber came in, and Roger Maris promptly sliced a double to left. He went to third when Tom Tresh singled to deep short. Luis Aparicio got his glove on the ball and would have thrown Maris out at third but he couldn't hold it.

Then with one on, pinch hitter Elston Howard lashed a liner to right. Sam Bowens lost it in the lights which had been turned on in mid-game on an overcast day and played it into a double, with two runs scoring.

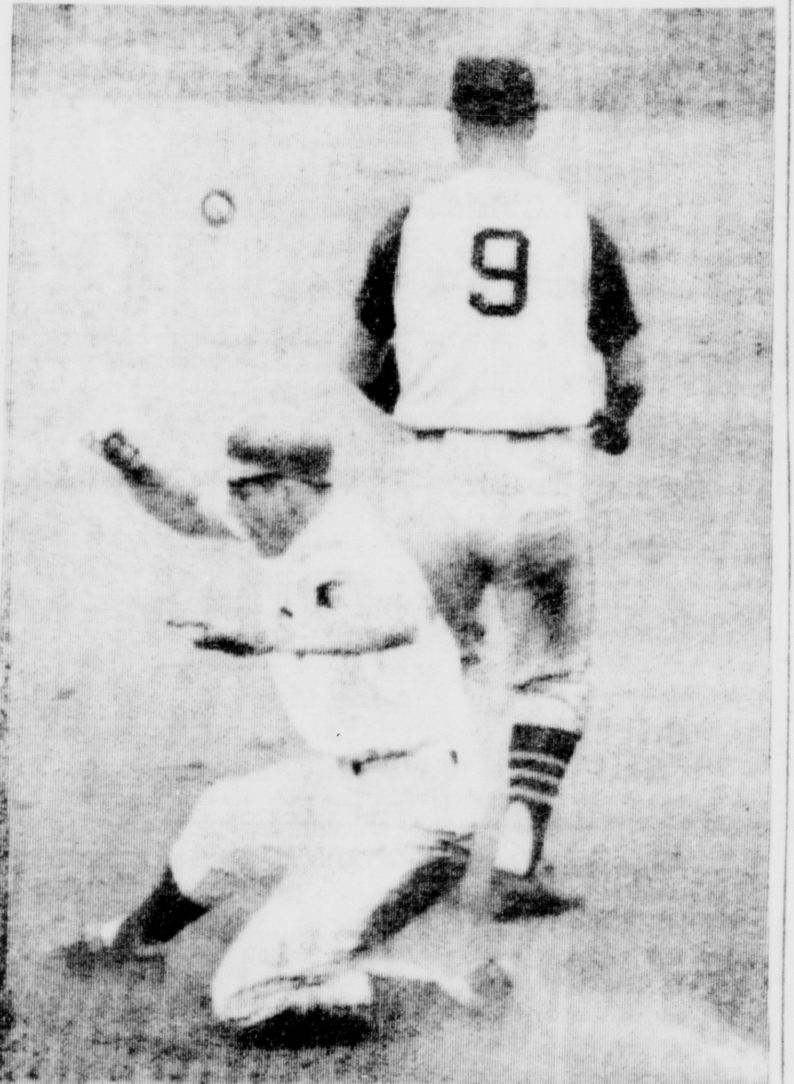

Boston center fielder Carl Yastrzemski misjudged flies by Floyd Robinson and Bill Skowron and both went for triples in the game with the White Sox. Skowron singled Robinson home in the first.

Jim Landis tripled to right in the third when Lee Thomas staggered and fell retrieving the ball. Landis scored on a wild pitch by Ed Connolly.

Joel Horlen, with help from Hoyt Wilhelm, got the victory, as the White Sox wound up the season 14-4 over the Red Sox.

Football Prospects

Eye Houston Oiler Chance Amid Improved AFL Teams

HOUSTON (AP) — After two years out of pro football, Sammy Baugh finds the class of the American Football League so improved that he doesn't know how to rate chances of his Houston Oilers.

"I am a one-quarterback man," Baugh said. "Jacky Lee and Don Trull are too good for both of them to be sitting on the bench. I'll probably go with George Blanda as long as he keeps doing the job."

They have been burying the 36-year-old Blanda for years but he keeps coming back to haunt the mourners. In the early exhibition games he has looked as good as ever, both as a passer and a placekicker. Trull, of course, is the high-priced rookie from Baylor.

Boonville Takes Cape In Babe Ruth Tourney

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Boonville, coming up through the loser's bracket, beat Cape Girardeau 7-1 and 4-2 Sunday night for the championship of the Midwest Regional Babe Ruth baseball tournament.

Boonville goes to the national tournament in Woodland, Calif. and will play its first game there Sunday.

Cape Girardeau, unbeaten going into the finals, had defeated Boonville 3-1 Friday.

In other games of the four-day state tourney, Boonville defeated East Tonka, Minn., 5-2; beat Williston, N.D., twice, 7-2 and 8-4, and defeated Eads, Colo. 3-0.

On the debit side, Tony Banfield, all-league cornerback, had to undergo knee surgery and is lost for six weeks and Ode Burrell, a highly regarded rookie running back from Mississippi State, may be lost for the season due to an injured hamstring muscle.

Injury-prone Bill Cannon came to camp weighing 228 pounds and may be moved over to the fullback spot as competition for Charley Tolar. Sid Blanks, a flashy running back from Texas A & I, has impressed Baugh.

The big change in the Oilers' offense has been the shift of Bobby Jancik from defensive back to split end. Willard Devueall, split end last season, has replaced Bob McLeod at tight end.

Blanda's chief target again will be all-league flanker Charlie Henningan.

Tom Goode appears to be ready to take over at center in front of Bob Schmidt and John Frongillo is challenging the veteran Hogan Wharton for the right guard job. Bob Talamini is a fixture at the other guard position and Rich Michael and Walt Suggs are the first line offensive tackles.

Hot Little League Action During Week

This week will find some hot action to complete the season for Sedalia's Little League.

The "C" and "B" Minor League Tournament gets underway tonight at 6:30 at the Little League Stadium in Liberty Park. The tournament continues through Wednesday, with the top four teams in each league doing battle.

Thursday night, two American League Major All Star teams will meet two All Star teams of the National League. The Thursday All Star Games will be the wind-up of the Little League season.

"C" and "B" Tournament Schedule: Monday, 6:30 p.m. Jaycees C vs Elks C and 8:30 p.m. Jaycees B vs Elks B.

Tuesday, 6:30 p.m. Rotary C vs Lions C and 8:30 p.m. Adco B vs Moose B.

Wednesday, Winners of Monday and Tuesday games.

Missouri Team Wins First Two Non-Pro Games

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Fulton, Mo., and Brandon, Neb., have won their first two games in the national non-pro baseball tournament and are the first teams to enter the third round.

Fulton defeated Osceola, Ark., 3-1 and Brandon downed Chicago 4-2 Sunday.

First teams to be eliminated from the double elimination event were Denver and Watkins, Iowa. Wichita Dreamliners, the defending champion, defeated Denver 9-0, and Albuquerque edged Watkins 3-2.

In a first round game, Fallon of Nevada beat Greenville, Tenn., 5-1 on the three-hit pitching of Jim Lyon and Rod Atnip. Greenville's third hit was a line drive that cracked Lyon on the shin and he had to leave the game in the eighth inning. Atnip came on with the score 3-1, the bases loaded and one out. He stopped Greenville cold.

Tonight's games, all first round:

5:15 p. m.—West Point, Miss., vs. Phoenix, Ariz.

8 p. m.—Wichita Moore vs. Cleo Springs, Okla.

9:45 p. m. — Milwaukee vs. Decatur, Ala.

Check Women's Play In Qualifying Round

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Contestants kept close check on the weather today as the smallest field in 14 years began qualifying rounds for the National Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

"These girls are worried about what will happen if the wind comes up," said pro Ross Wilson of the Prairie Dunes Country Club. "They've been practicing in calm weather this weekend. But Kansas is noted for its winds and I expect it to come up out of the Southwest any time now."

Of 101 players entered, 20 have withdrawn. The 1951 tourney attracted 79 entries and since then the list has ranged from 100 to 195.

Qualifying will be through 36 holes ending Tuesday, with the low 32 scorers going into match-play competition Wednesday. The 36-hole championship match will be played Saturday.

Phils Lose 1, Giants Double

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies lost a single game, the San Francisco Giants lost a doubleheader.

But a big loser Sunday was Curt Flood—and he had eight hits.

While the National League's leading contenders were taking it on the chin, Flood was hitting the ball on the nose for the St. Louis Cardinals and threatening a record that was set when Baltimore was in the National League 70 years ago.

On Sept. 3, 1894, Baltimore outfielder Joe Kelley collected nine consecutive hits against Cleveland.

Flood, 26-year-old right-hander, collected four hits as the Cardinals bowed to the Los Angeles Dodgers and Sandy Koufax 3-0 in the opener of a doubleheader and reached the ninth inning of St. Louis' 4-0 nightcap triumph with a string of eight consecutive hits.

Flood, however, lost his opportunity by striking out against Ron Perranoski.

Flood, however, did become the first National Leaguer since Stan Rojek of Pittsburgh in 1948 to collect eight hits in a doubleheader. His four hits against Koufax also ranked among the top performances of the season.

Koufax hurled a three-hitter against the rest of the Cardinals as he posted his seventh shutout and 19th victory of the season, striking out 13 and lowering his earned run average to a league-leading 1.74.

The Phillies, meanwhile, were bombed by the New York Mets 12-4 but still stretched their lead to 4½ games over the second-place Giants, who dropped a doubleheader to Milwaukee 5-4 and 10-2.

In other NL action, Chicago's Cubs defeated Pittsburgh 5-4 before the Pirates took the second game 7-4 and Cincinnati belted Houston 8-3.

Flood slammed a triple, two doubles and five singles against the Dodgers, collecting four hits in a game for the fifth and sixth time this season while lifting his average from .291 to .302.

Koufax, now 19-5, moved two days ahead of his 1963 pace when he won 25 games, tied Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees and Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels for the most shutouts in the majors and struck out 10 or more batters for the 61st time in his career.

The Dodgers scored twice in the fifth two walks and singles by John Roseboro and Dick Tracewski before Tommy Davis wrapped it up with a sixth-inning homer.

Bobby Klaus led the Mets' 17-hit attack against the Phillies with four singles. He triggered a two-run first and started a three-run second and that proved enough. Galen Cisco, touched for homers by Richie Allen and John Herrnstein won it for a 5-13 record.

The Braves got the job done on a pair of three-run homers that proved more productive than five bases-empty blasts by the Giants. Eddie Mathews got the job done in the seventh inning of the opener while Gene Oliver produced in the nightcap for Milwaukee.

Willie Mays hit his 36th and 37th for the Giants in the opener while Willie McCovey and Orlando Cepeda also connected. Del Crandall homered in the second game.

The Cubs won the opener in the ninth when singles by Dick Bertell, Andre Rodgers and pinch hitter Jimmy Stewart produced the winning run off Pirate reliever Al McBean, who hadn't lost in 60 appearances dating back to July 27 last year.

For every man who ever fell in love with a Jeep—a new kind of family station wagon has been born. The 'Jeep' Wagoneer. It's the first station wagon ever built to offer the comfort, silence, speed and smoothness of a passenger car—plus the traction and safety of 4-wheel drive.

It's sheer pleasure to drive. Simple too. One lever puts you in 4-wheel drive. So at a second's notice you can shift into greater safety...from wheel-spinning in mud or snow...from skids on slick surfaces...from getting stuck or going out of control on the highway or off!

The Wagoneer really makes a demonstration worthwhile. It'll be your most exciting 30 minutes behind the wheel in 1964. Also in 2-wheel drive models. See your 'Jeep' dealer.

Connie Mack Play To Close Tonight

The 1964 Connie Mack League season draws to a close tonight as two rained out games will be made up. These two games are rescheduled from the July 1 postponement.

At 6 o'clock, VFW will play Red Wing. At 8 o'clock, Broadway Realty will play S & M.

At present, there is a two-way tie for first place between Red Wing and S & M, with both teams having lost three games. If the standings remain as they are after tonight's two games, there will be a playoff for the championship.

Clay To Appear Before World Boxing Group

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Representatives of the group sponsoring heavyweight champion Cassius Clay have accepted an invitation to appear before the World Boxing Association.

Bill Faversham, Clay's manager for the sponsors, said Sunday in a statement that he, attorney Gordon Davidson and other members of the group will appear "out of courtesy" and to keep boxing on the highest possible level.

The fight is scheduled in mid-November at an undecided site.

Joe Cronin Next Batter

BOSTON (AP) — American League President Joe Cronin is the next batter due in the controversial sale of the New York Yankees to CBS — baseball's hottest topic from capitol hill to the dugouts.

Cronin said he will decide today whether to call a league meeting as requested by Arthur Allyn, president of the Chicago White Sox.

Allyn contends the telegraphic vote which approved 8-2 the sale of 80 per cent of Yankee stock to CBS, violates the league constitution.

Meanwhile, Rep. Emmanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, said in Washington the transaction may run afoul of the Celler-Kefauver anti-trust act.

Dr. Frank Stanton, president of CBS, replied CBS had been advised by counsel before undertaking negotiations "that the acquisition would in no way violate the anti-trust laws, including the Celler-Kefauver act."

An American League spokesman likewise says its plan to take a telegraphic vote as requested by the Yankees was given the legal green light by Ben Fiery, the league's attorney and "the foremost authority on the American League constitution."

Utz Finishes Third In Feature Race

KNOXVILLE, Ia. (AP)—The current point leader here, Bill Utz of Sedalia, Mo., finished third in the feature stock car race Saturday night.

The 15-lap competition for supermodified stock cars was won by Bob Williams of Kansas City, Mo., who also was first in the fourth qualifying heat.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
AND NOT KNOW IT
Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge—small, easy-to-take tablets—special sizes for children and adults.
